Property Law Practice

Rostron Carlyle's Property Law Practice Group provides a wide range of services for owners, investors, developers, landlords, property funds managers and listed property trusts. Our ability to provide creative, yet practical legal solutions – from site acquisition through to the completed development – has established our Practice as one of the best. Rostron Carlyle's clients range from home buyers, to property investors, to large residential and commercial developers. We also assist a variety of retail shop landlords and shop owners in negotiating the best terms for their leases. We have assisted pub and licensed venue owners to buy and sell their properties and deal with issues arising out of the complex Queensland Liquor Licensing laws. Our key areas of expertise include:

- property developments
- liquor licensing
- commercial and retail leasing
- body corporate scheme registration and community management statements
- portfolio acquisitions and divestments for residential, commercial and industrial properties
- due diligence
- put and call option agreements
